

The image shows the interior of a bar named Bodriggy. The space is characterized by a high ceiling with exposed wooden beams and large skylights. Green vines are draped over the ceiling and walls, adding a natural, rustic feel. The bar area is well-stocked with various bottles of alcohol. A menu board is visible above the bar, listing different drink categories. Patrons are seated at wooden tables and bar stools, some facing the bar and others in groups. The lighting is warm and ambient, with several spotlights hanging from the ceiling. The overall atmosphere is cozy and inviting.
